Overdrafts increase the available funds in your account. An arranged overdraft is one you organise with us in advance. An unarranged overdraft is when an account is in debit where there is no arranged overdraft in place, or if you go over your arranged overdraft limit.

Fees and interest are payable on both arranged and unarranged overdrafts and what you are charged depends on whether you have an arranged overdraft or not. See the account fees table for your specific account for more details.

Rates and fees are subject to change. For more information on overdrafts, see section 7 of our Standard Terms and Conditions, and any overdraft agreement you have for an arranged overdraft.
